GUIDE

TO BENEFIT CASCADE HEALTH FOUNDATION

November 27 - December 1, 2019

One of our fondest memories as a family is being at Mammoth Mountain with our son Christian, who was only 2 years old when we took our initial trip. Gliding down the mountain with a toddler is far from graceful, but after many falls, tears and laughs, we began to make this an annual trip during the holidays. The majestic backdrop of the mountains set behind a small town adorned with Christmas lights, wreaths, and decorations made it a magical place for us. Over the years, we've taken our family, friends, and loved ones to share the joy and serene beauty of the mountain. Nowadays our son passes us up and down the slopes, laughing as he glides right past us. And we smile every time because of the tradition we've created as a family and the memories we create each year.

We are honored to be involved in this year's Festival of Trees and chose 'Glide into Giving' as our theme, because giving back to our community during the holidays is as fulfilling as any other winter tradition. Just as gliding down the slopes creates a feeling of joy and exuberance, supporting those in our community who provide a beautiful and caring service to families is equally as rewarding. Set in a serene and picturesque landscape, The Pete Moore Hospice House provides a wonderful and caring environment for loved ones to share a tender moment in life.

When we first visited the Pete Moore Hospice House, we were both overcome with emotion, as we had just lost Caitlin's grandfather, Sebastian. A wonderful man and celebrated WWII veteran, he was a large part of our lives and we were grieving his loss. Walking through the beautiful building and grounds our thoughts centered on what a privilege it would have been to spend our final days with him there. From a caring and loving staff, beautiful decor, and stunning views, the Hospice House would have been the perfect way to honor and share the final moments of a man we loved tremendously.

Loved ones that spend their moments here are greeted by a warm and affectionate staff who understand how tender this time can be for families and have designed the space knowing exactly what is needed. Each room is equipped with the necessary medical amenities surrounded by a warm and peaceful decor, a fireplace, and an accessible patio which overlooks stunning views of the Pacific Northwest. All families have access to a full kitchen for meals, multiple spaces to meet with loved ones and caregivers, beautiful and serene outdoor areas to sit, and a chapel for prayer. Without your help and propensity for giving, this space wouldn't be the blessing it is to our community.

With full and grateful hearts, we want to thank the sponsors and volunteers who make this event possible year after year. This is a wonderful holiday tradition that has spanned more than 26 years, and we're both honored and humbled to be involved. We're incredibly lucky to live in a small town with such a big heart that is able to make places like The Pete Moore Hospice House a reality for so many families.

So enjoy the trees, wreaths, and holiday festivities and glide your heart into giving.

Much love and keep your ski tips up,

Caitlin and Allan Benavides
